About

This masterclass brings all aspects of an AI company transformation together in one day packed with experience, practical frameworks and interactive exercises. You leave able to set strategy for AI, govern it and deploy it in a way that mobilizes employees and adds materially to the bottom line.

Contents

Includes a short hands-on session with agentic AI; the agentic experience is the full, half-day version.

Why AI, why now
What has changed, and what it means for your company.

Brief agentic hands-on experience
A short hands-on session with agentic AI. The agentic experience is the full version.

Structuring and leading the company transformation
How to set up, run and scale the transformation.

Looking past the current technology wave
What comes next, and how to prepare for it.

AI fundamentals for board directors
The concepts leaders need to direct work and decide.

Personal productivity
Using AI on your own work, every day.

Leadership and organization models
How leadership and organization change as AI takes on work.

How it works

1. Before. The AI strategy diagnostic gives the day a starting point. We agree your context and priorities beforehand.
2. The session. One full day of experience, frameworks and interactive exercises, including a short hands-on session.
3. After. Presented materials and templates are shared. Optional recordings and transcripts are agreed with participants.
